Professor G. Raymond Fennell

When most of us in the Class of 1965 remember Professor G. Raymond Fennell, we will think of him as the gracious heart behind our Student Union. This is how we knew him best; full of smile and neatly attired behind his simple desk in the Student Center. But, there is another man behind that desk few of us know, a man noted to have "the best administrative education on the faculty," one of the dedicated backbones of the University for the past thirty-six years. Prof. Fennell was a teacher of economics until 1962, and he has been administrator par excellence since 1929. His duties over the years have ranged from hiring women employees and screening faculty, to admitting students and aiding in the establishment of University policies. In all, he has given the best of his laughter, studies, common sense and initiative. As an alumnus since 1926, he has been known for good talk and free thinking. For us, he is the man who has given us fond memories, hope and a belief in the little, but important, life we have led at our Alma Mater. His charity and hard work have made for a course in humanity listed in the unofficial catalogue of our experience and intellectual leanings.

English is his profession, but human understanding and creativity are his convictions, and Professor Louis E. Roberts gave them to many of us with a warmth and intellectual fervor that has become part of us in memory and heart through the art which evolved in his classrooms. Many of us have known and appreciated Prof. Roberts, faculty advisor to the CAULDRON, our yearbook, The NU Writer, our literary magazine, Pegasus, our poetry society, and the Northeastern NEWS, our weekly newspaper. In all, he traded with us, freely and forcefully, his wisdom for our growth.

The artist was always present in him, from his Freshman English where we learned about Gogol's "Overcoat" to his drama course and Miller's "Death of a Salesman." Those who never missed it will remember that his Joseph Conrad was rough reading, but it brought us one of the truly great writers of the world. We listened to Prof. Roberts discuss American Literature and Conrad on the radio and always, we listened to a serious mind. Leaving this friend of literature and students will not be a loss for the Class of 1965; we have him. The loss is with others in the future.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is a pleasure for me to extend my congratulations to the members of the Class of 1965. As you go forth from Northeastern, you join 37,000 other Northeastern graduates who comprise a very important segment of America's greatest resource — her educated men and women.

As graduates of Northeastern University you are entering upon your careers at a time of great social upheaval. A new world politics is in the making and we are undergoing a transition from a society which had its roots in an industrial revolution to one which is now based on a scientific revolution — the age of science. The future peace and strength of our nation depends on the abilities of men and women like yourselves who can develop new social forms, ideas and the new political strategies needed to cope with the social problems of the new age in which we live.

Because of the special kind of education which you have received — an education not pursued in isolation from the work-a-day world but rather in conjunction with it — you are in a unique position to assume places in the community much more rapidly and with much more impact than many of your peers in today's society.

The challenge to you is to make the most of your opportunities and to use your education and talents to the fullest. May you accept the challenge and may God instill in each of you a passion for excellence in fulfilling whatever may be your role.

Freshmen Throng Quadrangle

Enrollment Tops 2000 Mark Coeds Outnumbered 7 to 1

By BOB NUNES

For the first time in the 62-year history of Northeastern University, an incoming freshman class has passed the 2,000 enrollment mark.

The Class of 1965, consisting of 2015 students has already begun to set records. It is the biggest, richest (in terms of scholarships granted), and brainiest (most scholarships), in the University's history.

Its 238 coeds make it the most female conscious, while its 60 physical education majors make it the most sports conscious.

The classes' 2,015 members were picked from a record total of more than 6000 applications. A total of 10,000 persons requested information concerning the University.

The Colleges of Liberal Arts and Education show the greatest growth. The College of Education reports a freshman class of 105, the largest in its history. Of that number, 60 have enrolled in the College's School of Physical Education.

In Liberal Arts, 440 freshmen topped last year's record-breaking class of 400.

Freshman classes in the Colleges of Engineering and Business Administration were about equal with last year's freshman class. The College of Engineering enrolled 665 students, including 10 coeds, in the Class of 1965, while the College of Business Administration accepted 475 freshmen. Fifteen freshman coeds enrolled in the College of Business Administration.

While the majority of students are still from the Greater Boston area, the freshman class enrolled students from all of New England, New York, several Mid-Atlantic states, and even some from California and Florida. Several students from foreign nations will also be studying at the University, but figures concerning these students are not yet available.

Prof. Ryan Named New Fresh Advisor

Dr. James J. Ryan, professor of Modern Languages, has been named advisor to the Class of 1965, according to an announcement by Administration officials.

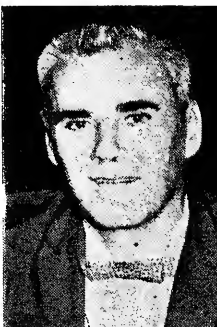

Prof. Ryan will aid the Freshman board and cabinet in planning class functions.

"As a teacher," Prof. Ryan said, "I have always tried to awaken my students to the finer things of life.

"As advisor I will be able to approach this from a new angle. I hope the members of the freshmen class will keep their minds open to fresh approaches."

Dr. Ryan added that any freshman seeking advice can find him in his office in 304D (Library Building). After graduating from Queens College N.Y. in 1949, Prof. Ryan received his Masters and Doctorate degrees in Spanish literature from the University of Wisconsin.

The new class advisor came to Northeastern in 1956. Previously he taught at the University of Connecticut and the University of Florida.

Incoming Class Receives $210,000 in Scholarships

A total of $210,000, the largest amount in the University's history, has been granted in scholarships to 257 incoming freshmen.

The University granted $110,000 from its own resources to 214 freshmen. The grants were based on academic excellence in preparatory schools and personal factors.

Non-university sources awarded $100,000 in scholarships to 43 members of the class of 1965.

The largest single award, a $6000 General Motors Corporation Scholarship, was awarded to Richard White 65LA, a native of Waterford, Conn. White will major in physics in the College of Liberal Arts.

The United States Navy's Apprentice Training Scholarship Program has awarded grants to 33 freshmen. Each student enrolled in the program will have the full expenses of his

General Motors Awards $6000 to Physics Major

A physics major in the University's College of Liberal Arts, Richard White, has been named the recipient of the largest scholarship awarded to a member of the freshman class.

A graduate of Waterford (Connecticut) High School, Class of 1960, he was president of the school's Astronomy Club, a member of its executive council, and active in the high school's National Honor Society. He graduated third in a class of 157.

White also played varsity basketball and football at Waterford.

Contacted at his home, White told a NEWS reporter that, "I was impressed with Northeastern after my two visits there," and that he hoped to play basketball if he could fit it into his schedule.

"I feel very fortunate to receive this grant," White said, "and only hope I will prove myself worthy of the honor."

The General Motors Corporation Scholarship is awarded annually to an incoming freshman. The University now has five students, one in each undergraduate class, attending the University under the General Motors Program.

GETTING OFF THE MTA no one knew what to expect. It was the first day of just a few days for some, for others the first day of five long years.

The Year of the Beginning

by Ken Boyce

There were mixed emotions that day; it was warm and sunny and no one knew exactly what to expect. As we got off the MTA or rounded the turn from the North Lot, we were met with a sight that will remain with us as long as we remember Northeastern.

Enclosed on three sides by large buildings of white brick was our class. Some of us gasped in disbelief, others shrugged in a display of bravado and moved into the milling mass, a few groaned about never being anything but IBM numbers, while the rest vowed to rise above it, and make his or her presence felt.

There were strangers everywhere, sitting on the steps or on the benches around the trees in the quad, standing alone or in small groups of two and three, or lounging on the grass.

Immediately, there was born a sort of kinship, a kinship of newness for, in this infancy, we were all brothers.

EVEN OUR FRESHMEN GIRLS were soon initiated when this sign somehow appeared above the door of the dorm.

KING HUSKY One tradition ended with the death of King Husky. However, there was some feeling that actually the King was sent to Alaska as part of an expedition.

We were a large family, actually the largest ever to enter the University — 2015 in number. We brought with us the most scholarships, coeds, and best assortment of athletes to date — September 7, 1960.

Somehow we were herded into the auditorium where we met, along with several others, our advisor, Dr. James Ryan. Of them all, Dean Kennedy still stands out in our minds, primarily for one brief statement, "Look to your right and left, two of you will not be here for graduation."

"He's just trying to scare us," we thought. Little did we know.

MAYHEM BREAKS OUT It was the first mayoralty contest for us. Below is Kass-a-Boo-Boo; the one on the left-no, the RIGHT.

A NEW TRADITION BEGINS Ole Man Ram from URI made his first of many appearances at Northeastern during our freshman year.

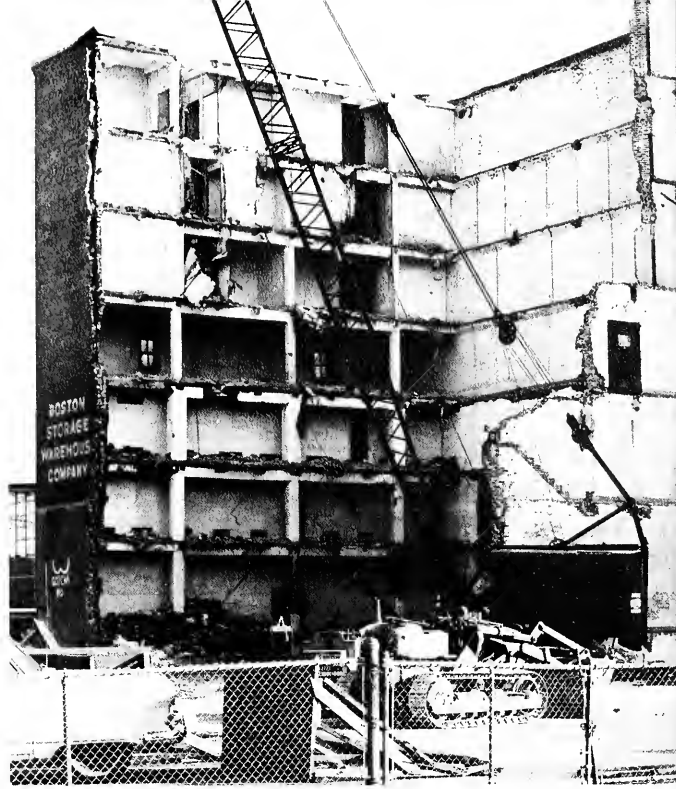

We quickly got into the pace of the school (some of us bought swimming pool rights), and we reacted to the first big crisis.

Within two weeks of our arrival the issue of a live husky arose; the Student Council wanted one, the student body said "Yes" and the administration said "No."

So one tradition ended, but without knowing it another began, as some students brought the University of Rhode Island's ram to our first football rally, before the URI game.

We were in the year of the first, our first ram, and our first mayoralty contest, with some guy named Jack Nixovitch winning.

But with one Husky Dog question out of the way, another quickly rose, one that dwarfed all other husky problems. Should the new statue of the husky be sitting or standing?

NEW SPORT For those too young to go to the Claw, the gathering place was the warehouse. Class seats near windows were at a premium to get a good view.

WHAAA? Suddenly it appeared! There in the quad was a real live, racket. Never could steer those things.

THE ONE AND ONLY snow sculpture contest in our collegiate history had "St. George and the Dragon" winning the top campus prize.

OH, BY THE WAY We were also expected to attend those convocations.

While the debate raged on, we got an omen of things to come because our frosh football team routed the Springfield team 46-14. A few short weeks later the team completed its season tying the University of New Hampshire by a score of 6-6, to record an 8-0-1 slate for the year.

Right on the heels of this came the word from basketball coach, Dick Dukeshire, that he was rather impressed with the frosh team and that he had high hopes for the future.

We elected our first board of officers headed by a girl as president.

As spring approached a new sport was initiated, warehouse-destruction watching. At all hours of the day, large crowds cheered as the guy in the crane swung his concrete ball, scoring pinpoint hits against the side of the warehouse, as if it were easy to miss something that large. In place of the warehouse we were told there would soon be a parking garage.

Then within a few short weeks we completed our 30-week marathon and we were sophomores.

RANKED FOURTH OUT OF FOUR Northeastern showed 'em all!

REVENGE Many a frustrated student had his day when several professors volunteered to become targets for the Korean Town Drive.

The Year of Growth

We were beginning the year of growth. Now we were no longer the biggest, smartest, and richest class, the new freshmen class was, but we did not mind because we were upperclassmen.

All of a sudden there were sororities on campus, a first for Northeastern. Now all those girls could wear their sorority sweatshirts, whereas before they could not.

We were about mid-way through the term when the students undertook the Korean Town Drive, and at the same time Rhody's ram returned to ole N.U.

Now as students in Div. A, we elected our second group of officers, this time a male got the top spot, our first president never returned. But Div. B decided to stick with females and elected another to head it.

AHH YES What would a September be without the long Bookstore lines, chaos and the eventual answer, "Sorry, we're out of that book, come back next week."

THE CHAMPS At least for us, are seen here returning from Evansville. Coach Duke-shire and the rest of the basketball team vowed to go back again — and they did.

EVERYWHERE the team went, so did the "Go Huskies" sign.

Then the news hit the campus like a thunder bolt: the husky statue would be sitting.

Getting back to normal, the Student Union sponsored a fair to raise money for the Korean Town. Highlight of the event was a sponge-throw of various professors. The drive got enough money, the pros got wet and some of the students got revenge for some of those marks thought to be lower than deserved.

As Div. A was taking its exams, the NEWS published a special paper that announced the $40-million dollar expansion plan.

In light of expansion, the students got into the act and took the first steps to get the priority of the Student Center changed so that we might get one before the original date of 1973.

The movement started slowly but gained speed as students, faculty and administration worked out the preliminary problems.

Another far-reaching program that was in the embryo stages was the idea of a term change. Many plans were being discussed but little else was made public.

But by now something was known; we were invited to our first NCAA Regional Basketball Tournament in Rochester, N.Y. Ranked fourth out of four, only Northeastern had any hopes of taking home the prize.

A week later we did take it and were off to Evansville, Ind., where our luck ran out. The team and Coach Dukeshire vowed to return.

Both Divisions elected officers for the coming year, both groups placed new presidents into power—incumbents just did not make it big with our class.

Just before we left for the year, plans for the Science Hall addition were announced. And because of the added educational facilities we were to be hit with a $100 tuition increase.

AFTER WEEKS OF DEBATE the Husky statue arrived — sitting. Long hours in smoke-filled rooms finally resulted in the great decision, if preferred: "IT WILL SIT."

The Year of the Dollar

This was the year of the dollar, actually many dollars.

After spending some thousands of dollars and much time, the long-awaited Husky statue arrived — sitting.

The Trustees approved the idea of a student-sponsored Student Center and gave the okay to begin working on it.

Our class devised a new way to raise money. We imported the Highwaymen, nationally-famous folk singing group, for a concert in the Auditorium — the University continued to raise money in equally new ways.

A long-forgotten alumnus willed N.U. more than $500,000.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND, your friend and mine, the N.U. Ram.

MIDDLEERS Now, some of us figured it was time we opened the books, the years were passing quicker than we had anticipated.

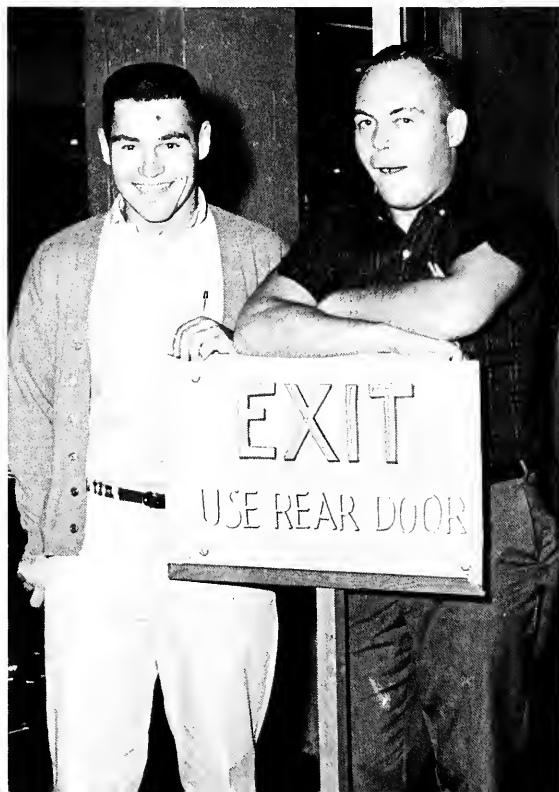

YULETIDE spirit came to Northeastern when the Husky Key sponsored the first Christmas Tree Trim. Actually the most fun was had trying to keep the things standing.

DAILY EXPERIENCE We took the long trip around to the back of the Commons just for a lousy cup of coffee, or whatever they call it.

As a University, the students undertook a second good deed, the gathering of $800 to supply a floor for a school in Guatemala.

But this $800 paled when the University announced that after one year it had almost $3 million for development.

ROTC Cadets also had their share of "good" news. Instead of traveling to Georgia and Virginia for "six-weeks-of-hell" at summer camp, it was decided in Washington to send our cadets to six-weeks-of-hell at Fort Devens, about 35 miles from Boston.

NORTHEASTERN'S second venture into national competition come in our Middler year with the College Bowl Team.

GOD BLESS our Commons!

The football team supplied a few surprises of its own, finishing up the season with a win over a nationally-ranked Tufts team on the strength of a 47-yard field goal. This ended the season with a satisfying 5-3 record.

Getting back to money, word was released that because the Student Center would not be ready for the Class of 1965, we did not have to pay for it.

FIRST VISIBLE SIGNS of the building program appear in the form of the skeleton and white bricks for the Science Hall addition.

DURING THE WINTER of this year we marked the half-way point. So far it had been a long, cold struggle; now on the way out, we would find it — harder.

But there were problems facing our students. One important issue reached a climax when Dean MacDonald backed away from trying to regulate the kissing habits of Northeastern coeds.

"If the coeds want to kiss or pat the nose of the husky statue for luck, it's all right with me, just so long as the students don't use his tail as an ashtray," he explained.

Again the basketball team was named to the NCAA Regional Tournament, but we were the host in the Cabot Gym. After an overtime win against Springfield, we were on the way to Evansville for the second time.

Once there we suffered a heart-rending 48-47 loss at the hands of Wittenberg, the nation's leading College Division team.

Back home our class could muster only 14 candidates for the 10 openings in the Div. A elections. But it happened again, tradition came through and both Divisions elected new presidents for the fourth time.

ANOTHER INNOVATION was the leasing of 100 apartments by the University to provide homes-away-from-home for the increased number of compus-dwelling students.

Year of the Athlete

BEGINNING STAGES Construction is just starting for the new Speare Hall women's residence, which houses 400 coeds, almost twice the number that originally enrolled with the class of '65.

With numbers reduced by half, we entered our junior year, the year of the athlete.

The ram returned to his home-away-from-home here at Northeastern, and had quite a time getting back again because nobody really wanted the poor ole guy.

Dr. Knowles decided that there was something he did not want, the 16 and 8-week proposed term change, so the mechanics of a quarter plan were set in motion.

The Student Center plans were drawn and approved, the fall of this year, 1965, set as target date.

A type of politics also played an interesting part of the fall of this year. It seems that there were about 200 more ballots than voters in the Homecoming Queen Contest, thus making a re-election necessary.

Hoping that lightning strikes twice, our class again presented a name folk-singer, Jackie Washington — but for all the effort, the class only came out even.

FINAL STAGES The Interfraternity Pledge Council makes its final stand against the powerful Greeks of Northeastern. The group demanding equality and justice deserved by all subordinates, was routed and demoralized when paddles, block-balls and threats turned the tide in favor of the Greeks. By the way, some of these pledges did get accepted.

NEW NAMES were attached to old buildings, confusing everyone. Not a year went by without some building being renamed.

SEEN ONE, YOU'VE SEEN 'EM ALL Always a highlight of the September term for Div. A students, old and young, was the Mayoralty Contest. Never did so many do so much, that they ordinarily would never have the nerve to even try. But we enjoyed it.

NEW EXPERIENCE — and a very pleasant one, when N.U. trounced the Tufts' Jumbos to go undefeated in football. This was a first for us, as a class, and the University.

FLIP-FLOP WHAT? Dean Kenneth Ryder explains to students the new Quarter Plan. Reactions were mixed, some scoffed, some said nothing would happen. . .

But lightning did strike. Word started going through the halls that if the football team finished up the season undefeated, it might be invited to a bowl game.

Just as the football team was running over its opponents, so was the cross country team, which finished its season without a blemish.

With a big win over UNH and a couple of easy ones against lesser clubs, the football team did finish undefeated and did get an invitation—The Eastern Bowl (dubbed the Cement Bowl by some students).

We waited as one proposed opponent and then another was discarded until the selection committee announced we would face East Carolina.

"Who?" asked the students.

We soon found out who East Carolina really was. It was one hell of a football machine, ripping our favorites, 27-6. It would have been nice to win, but we were happy, very happy about a great season.

Soon the famous "Flip Flop" plan was introduced. The administration liked it, the faculty liked it. The students really did not care for it too much, in fact, there was almost absolute dislike for it. But, it went through anyway.

SOME EVEN LAUGHED — but it was accepted, lock, stock and barrel.

GETTING IN THE ACT As Derby Day approached some groups tried to bring in "ringers" for the First Annual Turtle Races. In time the alert officials were able to weed out these imposters.

TRAINING and conditioning paid off for the Torontorsorous Kid, the eventual winner, shown here practicing his wind sprints.

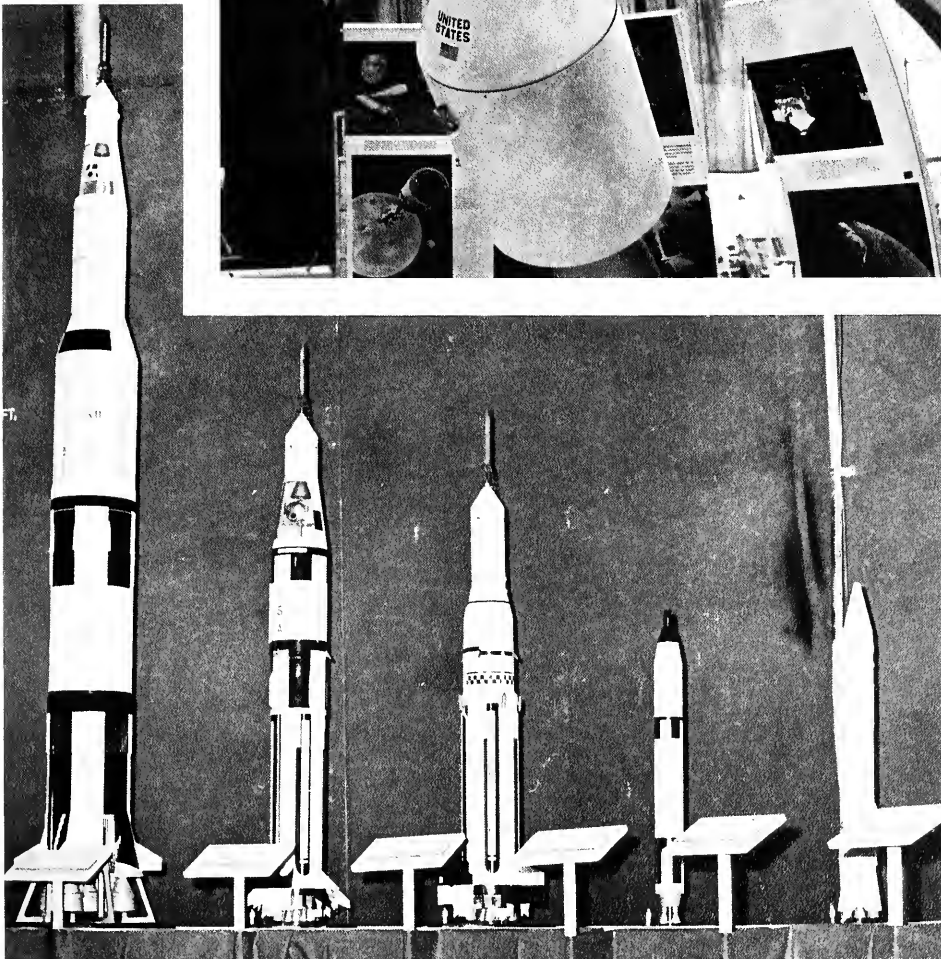

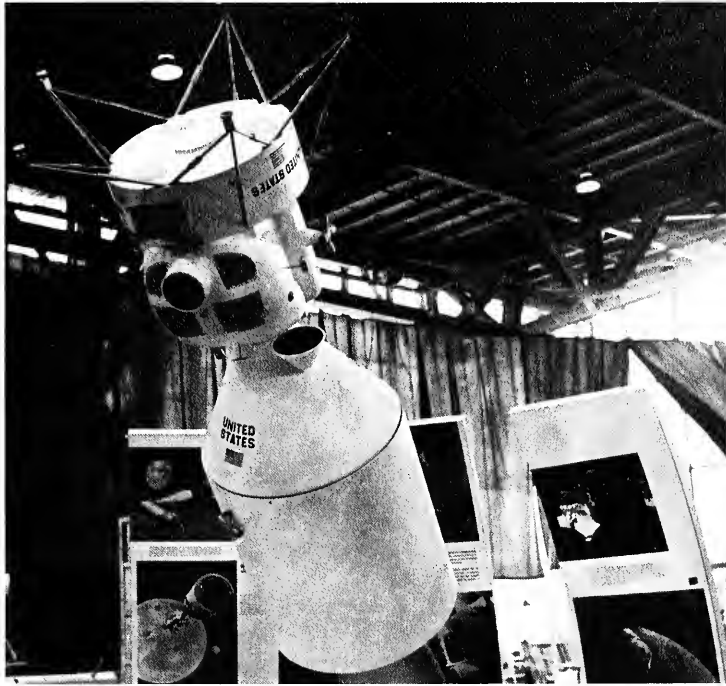

AS POST TIME NEARS, the more than 2000 "fans" press closely to the rail as the horses, err- turtles, near the post for the running of the race.

AND THEY'RE OFF!

SPACE COMES TO N.U. LEM, the device to be used to rocket men to the moon is shown in scale model at the NASA exhibit staged in the Cabot Cage. Billed as the biggest exhibit of space equipment in the East, it was visited by thousands during the week it was located here.

HERE PIG, PIG, PIG Letting our hair down, our back yard farmers let loose with the famous "Bastan Hog Call," noted for miles around for breaking plateglass windows, and attracting pigs from all over.

NOW WE ARE SENIORS Now we can wear the symbol of four lang years; we're almost through — thank God.

But the bitterness of this defeat was somewhat sweetened when, after five years of futility, our basketball team finally defeated Boston College.

Groundbreaking for the Student Center was pushed back again, for the third time, but still the administration vowed it would have it ready, just after the Class of '65 leaves.

At long last the tradition was broken and both Divisions finally re-elected presidents — there were not too many left to take the job.

But still the highlight of the year, sports, occupied the NEWS's headlines. The indoor track team went undefeated while the basketball team prepped for its third NCAA Tourney to be held in Worcester.

The hockey team, the best ever at Northeastern, waited for notification that it had been accepted for the ECAC Tourney after registering defeats over several of the East's top clubs.

Bad news was soon in coming. After upsetting top-ranked Assumption College, the basketball team suffered a two-point loss in the Regionals and the hockey team was snubbed altogether.

Ground was actually broken for the Student Center.

The Torontorsorous Kid, a native of the Charles River, won the First Annual Turtle Race before television cameras and several thousand students.

The outdoor track team concluded undefeated and New England Champs while the baseball squad qualified for the NCAA Regional Tournament against the University of Maine at Fenway Park.

Despite a loss at Fenway, fans and athletics put a highly successful cap on the University's best athletic year — ever!

Now low in number, reflecting once in a while about those who did not make it this far, we entered the last leg of the trip.

We were now seniors.

THE YEAR '65

SUMMER

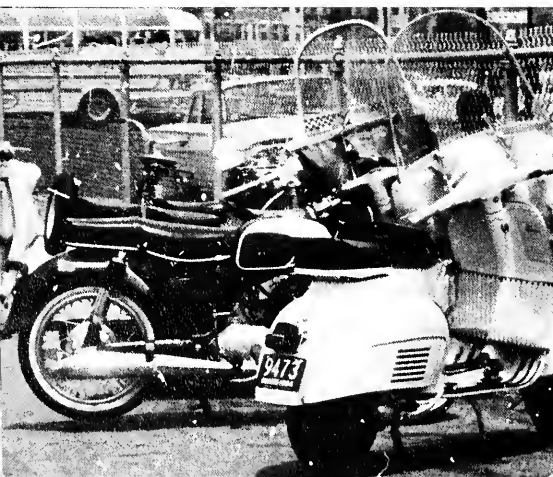

Warm weather was the time to go out and loll around on our rolling green. Girls would bask in the sun. Guys would bask in their eyes...or in their books (!?). On really hot days, passersby must have thought we were holding sit-ins on the Quadrangle gardens. Most times we were contemplating what to do now that we had cut some class. The lovers didn't have to contemplate... skipping classes was their least worry. Instead of biting fingernails while we contemplated, we could buy a sack of freshly roasted peanuts that were stale. Or else, we could stuff our sweating faces into Frosty swirls. If we were real nature hounds, we could hang out on the Fenway with the ducks while the great stone symbol of "New Boston" and the Tree-of-Life cast its shadow over us...and the people in Newton.

FALL

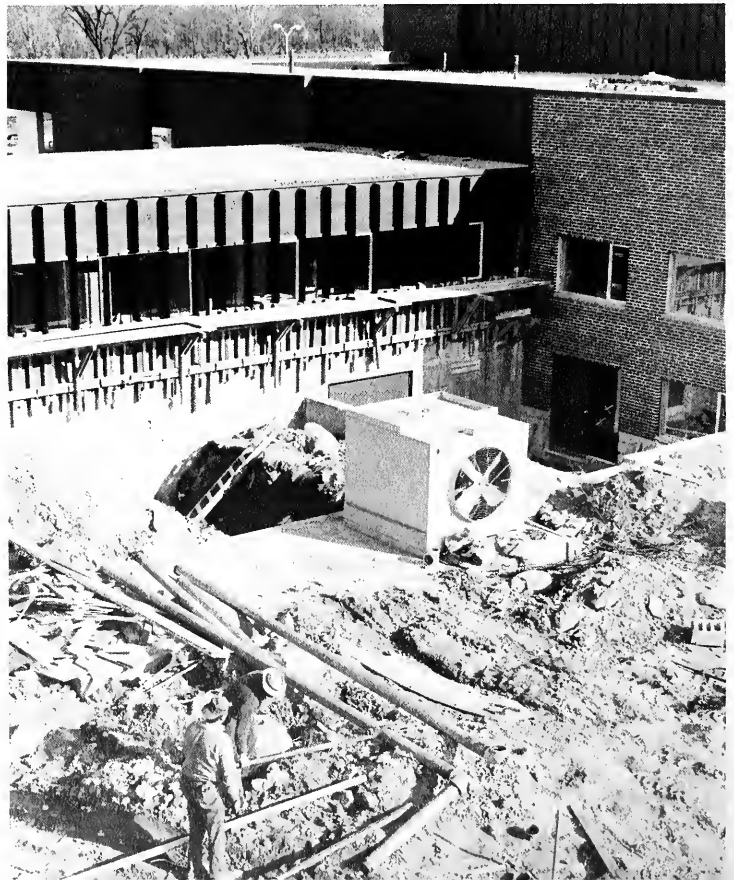

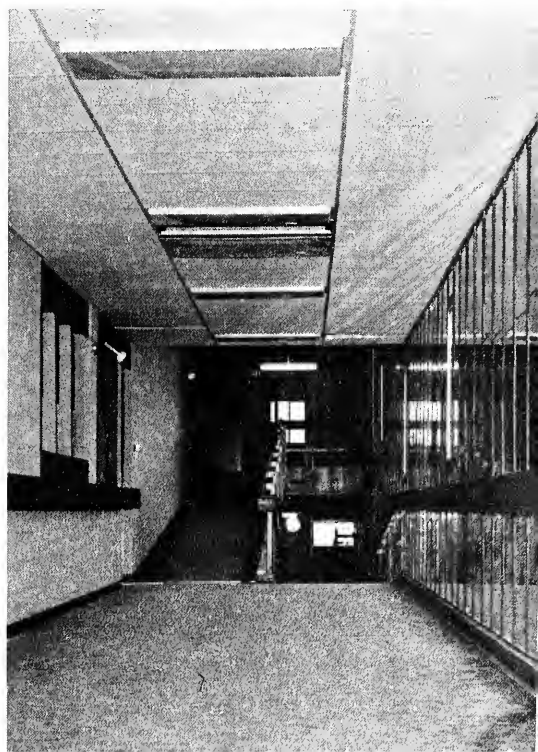

There was fun and laughter away from the usual classroom world — serious or boring. We had football at Kent Field with the winningest squad ever in '63...and U.R.I. cheers from the nicer guys. Gimmicky floats of flowers were a sight at Homecoming which went out in a salute of cheer and beer and better jokes than U.R.I. And then there was good old Mayorality when we all went insane with better jokes than after Homecoming and swingingly clad co-eds. Class office elections were dry-voters beating their way to the polls while most of us beat our way to Commons coffee. After a few sips, it was impossible to vote. Dean Kennedy was fun, especially when he graciously dragged someone to the ousting board. And some of us saw the Suburban bookstore. Familiar sight? Then, there is N.U.'s scooter dare-devils. We chuckled at their putt-putt loves. They laughed at us when we waited in our cars to jam into the dustbowl. And we haughtily gave directions to freshman only to turn around as seniors to ask directions after June.

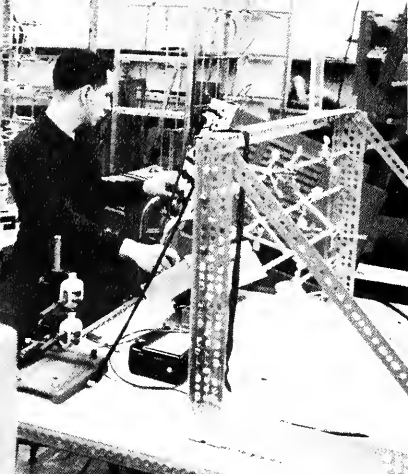

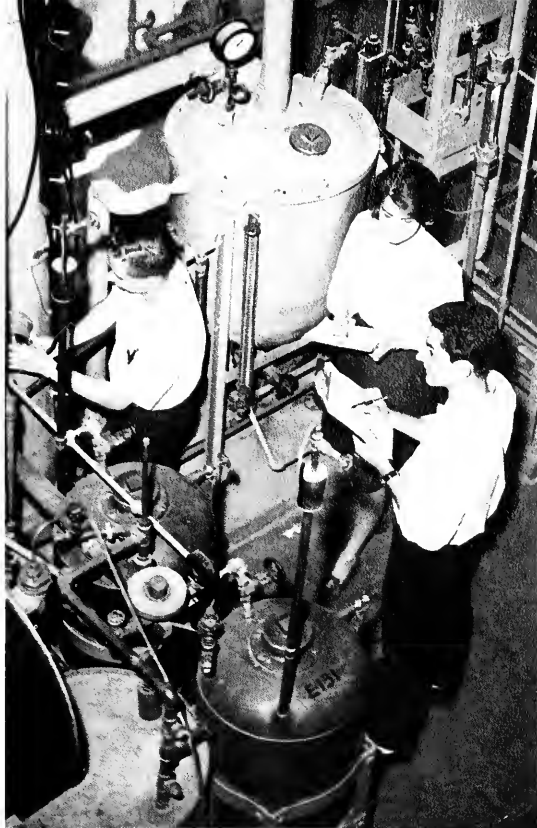

BURLINGTON CAMPUS

Officially opened in the fall of 1964, the Suburban Campus in Burlington has already been established as an important, integral part of the University complex. The new facility has accommodated 350 freshman students in the past college year along with 4500 students in the state-of-the-art courses, many of which are at the post-doctoral level designed for engineers and scientists. More than 400 women have enrolled in college courses which are constantly being updated. As Massachusetts Congressman E. Bradford Morse said at its dedication, the Suburban Campus is "a laboratory where we can confound the skeptics who question our ability to make the transition from a military to a civilian operation...."

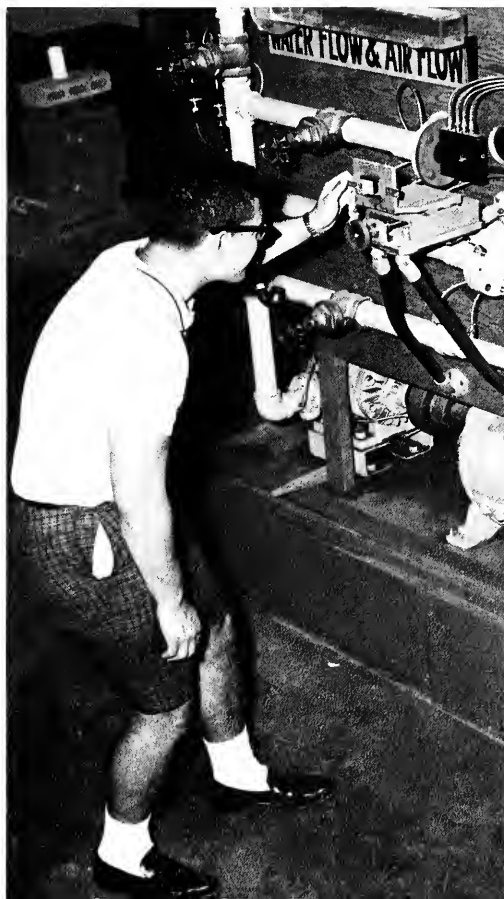

Physical and mental concentration relentlessly tasked us in the classroom, on campus grounds and in all the hidden nooks and crannies which to the uninitiated often looked like erector set playrooms and extensions of the boiler rooms. Come to think of it, how many of us ever found out where the boiler rooms really are? In all this rigmarole, one of our best friends was our trusty pen which got us the exam notes and aching wrists. We also got sore eyes reading dials, final exam schedules, and studying on the Quad-rangle in the shade of the local woods while a gentle breeze filled our nostrils with the edifying odor of granite dust. Sore sacroiliacs were a part of bending over chem lab experiments. In all our exertion, we labored with love for a solid education, a higher class sophistication...and money.

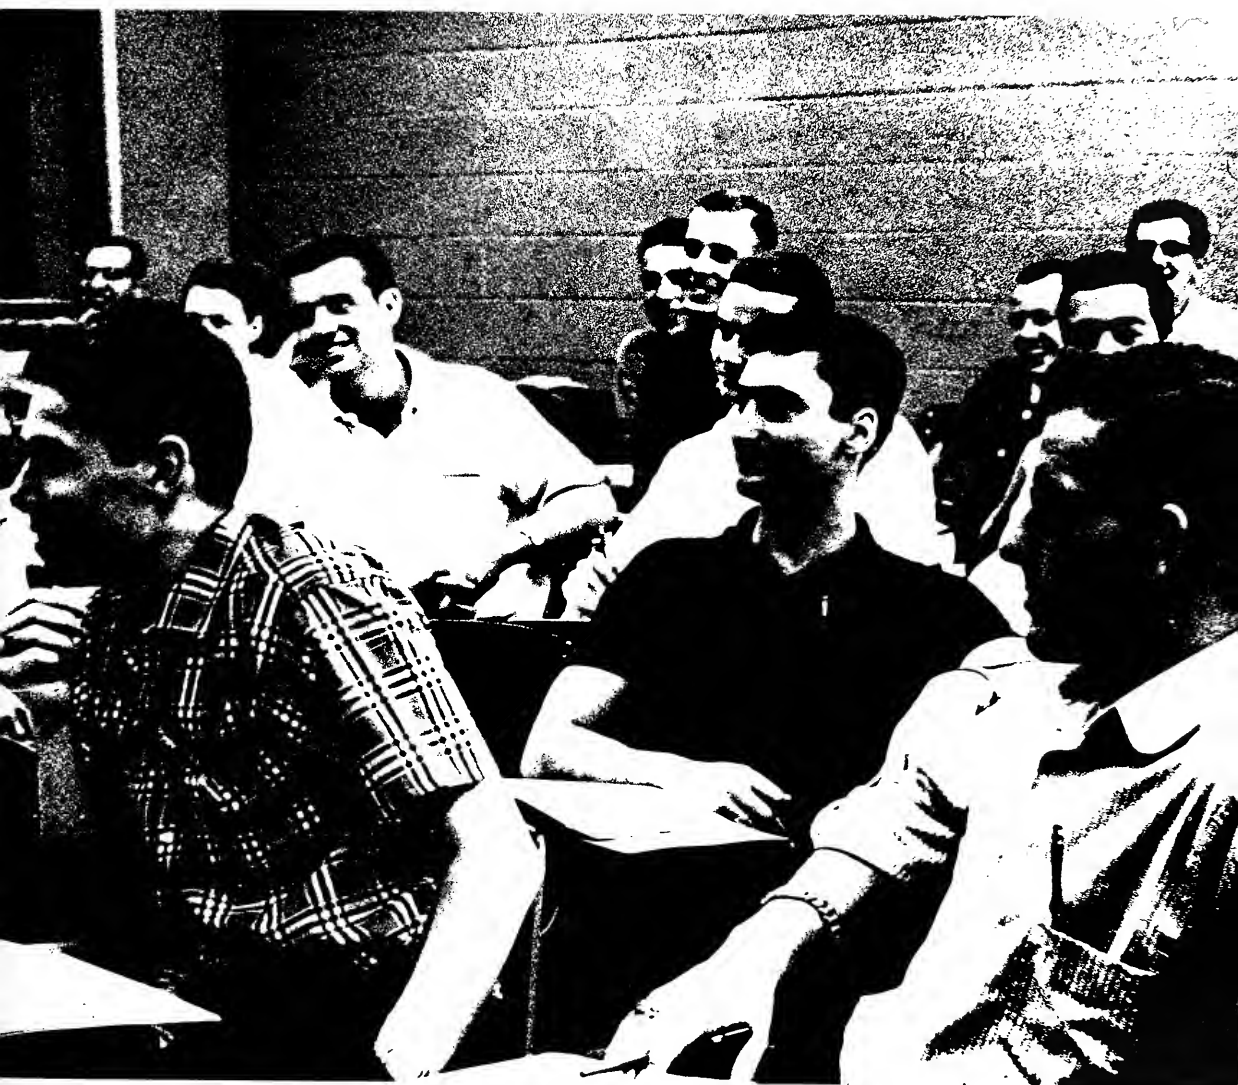

MAYOR OF HUNTINGTON AVENUE CONTEST

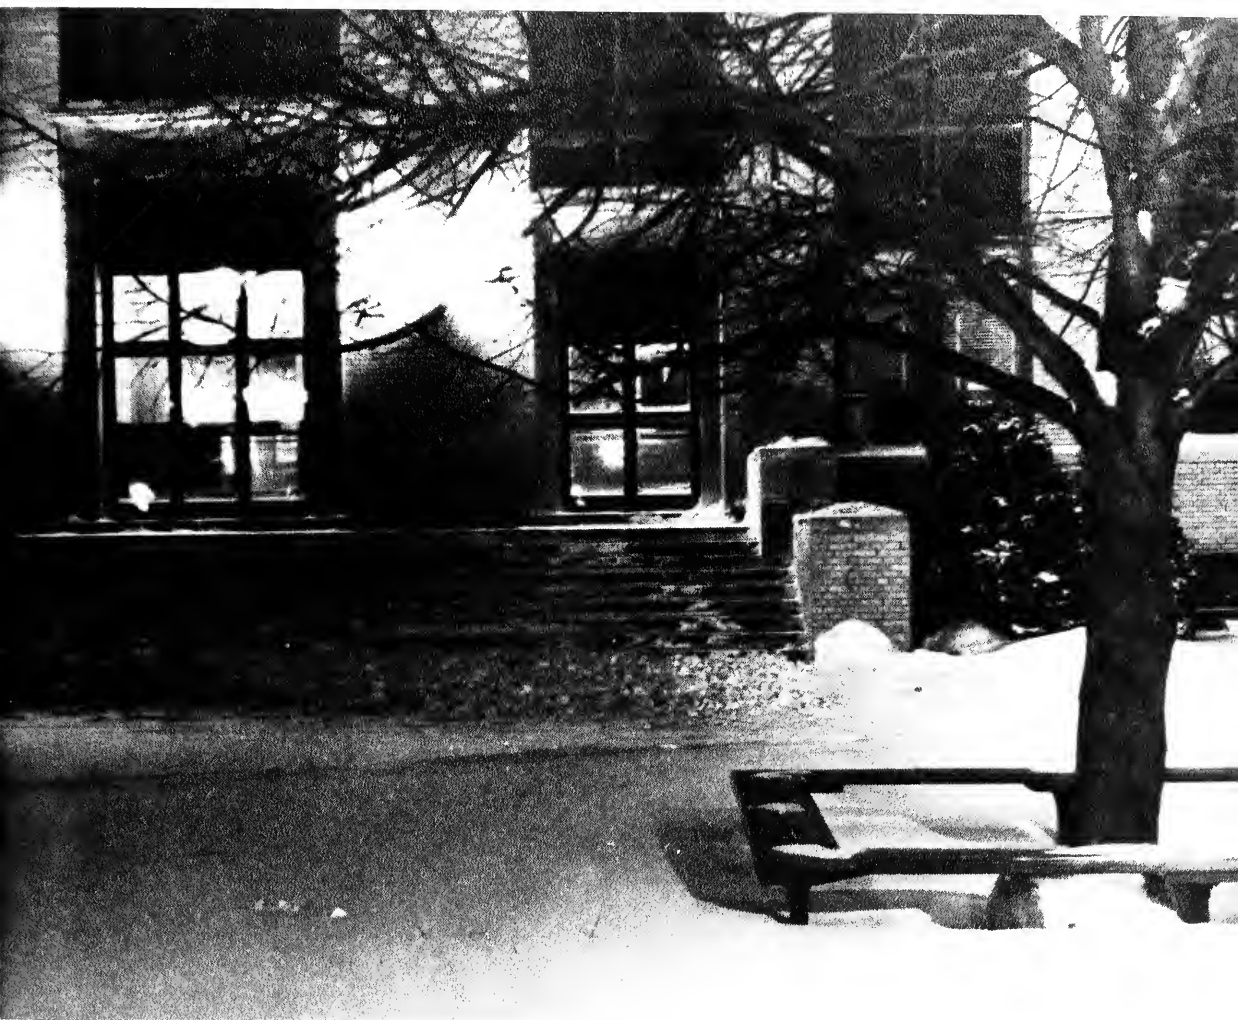

HOMEcoming QUEEN HELEN ESSAF

WINTER

In winter, there was always snow. If it fell during the night, when we reached the University the following morning, our vanguard of athletes on the grounds crew had cleared away some walking paths and left a thin coat of ice over them. Sometimes they cleared away other things such as a Quadrangle light pole which someone wanted to touch to see if it was still alive. If it was, we never found out from them. The shrubbery took on new life when the snow hung heavy on its limbs which drooped sadly over as if longing for some country campus. Snow meant mystery too. Gargantuan piles of it would disappear overnight from in front of the Grad cafeteria or on the Quadrangle. Then we found out that it was the fault of a snowmelter hidden behind Forsythe building. Winter meant Christmas and paper symbols. And there was the tree put up in front of the University, the big-daddy that every year we thought was going to replace tree X which disappeared from the Quadrangle green making it look lop-sided.

SPRING

The coming of Spring at the University was the time our fancies turned toward love...and our feet churned through slush. Brave co-eds would shed their coats and venture from buildings to feel the spring air...or to be sexy. Whatever, the biggest problem of the spring thaw was pathole plateau, the badland of the parking lot, where besides gazing narcissistically into dirty puddles, one could plow car and feet through a morass of mud and muck. Spring is the promise of our commencement, which is the spring of our future.

PUBLICATIONS

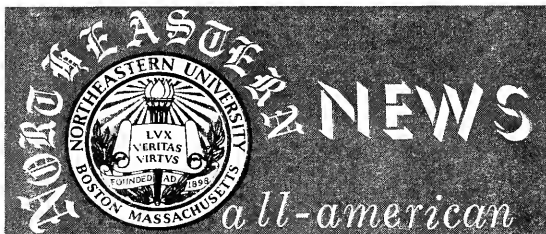

CAULDRON

Photographers and the press, deadlines and disappointments, more material and less money are part of it, but the wealth of experience gained from dealing with people in innumerable situations, about unheard of problems and the feeling of pride in each section as it is seen in page-proof form, far outweigh the depressing moments incurred by the staff of the CAULDRON. We feel that this is more than the 1965 year-book — it is our book of experiences, garnered from every moment of our Northeastern existence. We have learned more about this university by having to capture its very soul within these 352 pages, than many of its 1100 1965 graduates will ever know.

As editor, I am not idealistic to the point of blindness when I consider the long hours spent on the book during these 12 months. My staff probably knows the night watchman as well as WNEU, as a result of the late summer and fall nights spent pouring over registrar's lists, and checking and matching graduates' portraits, but our labors were not in vain.

To the readers of this book I can only say: we did our best.

TO ALL MY STAFFERS:

I love you! We put out 5 beautiful pages last week. Watch this Friday's Paper. My heartfelt and warm and grateful and loving regards? That last accolade to male staffers only. (Just to keep things honest.)

The Northeastern NEWS, undergraduate student newspaper, is published weekly by a staff selected from the student body of the basic colleges. Staff members write, edit and publish the prize-winning journal of student opinion and University happenings. The NEWS is dedicated to the idea of a free and objective press. It is noted for being one of the finest student newspapers in the nation. This year, the NEWS received the All-American rating from the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association.

NU WRITER

The NU Writer is the University undergraduate literary magazine, established to encourage creative writing by providing a vehicle of communication on campus for the student body. Students from the various basic colleges submit manuscripts of poetry, short stories, essays and one-act plays for annual publication in the magazine. Student operated, staff members receive experience in the editing and publication of professional journals. Alumni who wrote and edited for The NU Writer have become professional writers since graduation with publication of novels and poetry.

The purpose of the University Student Union is to deepen the lives of student members through their participation in social, ethical, spiritual, civic, intellectual and vocational activities. This includes such things as friendly chess games in the Union meeting rooms, book collections for local penal institutions, and parties for city and state social agencies. Attendance at inter-faith religious services is also observed. The Union's essential goal is the encouragement and promotion of a strong and effective University spirit in and through a unified student body.

HONORS

Election to honorary societies in the basic colleges is primarily based upon students' attainment of high scholarship in their respective majors, but before a student is privileged to wear the honorary society insignia, he must give evidence of an integrity of character and an interest in the extracurricular life of the University. Election to an honorary society is the highest honor which can be conferred upon an undergraduate. Beyond being agencies for the rewarding of personal excellence, the honorary societies in the University are symbols of a trust in the benefits of high academic scholarship on and off campus. Their intention is the establishment of a high quality academic student body while acting as vehicles for continuing the tradition of scholarly pursuits in the disciplines of the arts and sciences. Ideally, students honored with selection to these societies will find an inspiration in them to continue academic excellence in community life and higher education.

HILLEL

Hillel is designed to provide Jewish students, through study and discussion, with adequate and accurate knowledge of Jewish life through an acquaintance with its faith, literature, history, customs and thought. It attempts to give joy and understanding to its members by their participation in the religious and cultural group expressions of the Jewish heritage. It also aids the integration of its members into Jewish and general community life by the promotion of good fellowship and intergroup relations. In order to achieve its goals, Hillel operates an essentially three-fold program. First is the social program which consists of dances, formal and informal meetings, breakfasts, national and local conventions, and social hours after religious services. Next is the cultural program which consists of increasing member knowledge on various subjects through speakers. Last is the religious program which establishes a religious atmosphere through the observance of Friday evening services at the University or nearby Hillel on local college campuses.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

College life is not all culture and academics. It also includes religion, especially to those students who are members of the many religious organizations on campus, integral parts of the college extracurricular schedule. The Christian and Jewish organizations thus far established at the University have been founded in order to serve student desire for an understanding and appreciation of religious thought and life. Activities of each organization include such events as formal and informal gatherings, meetings, lectures, discussion group get-togethers, breakfasts, trips to churches, shrines, synagogues and denominational points of interest, and religious services. A continuing communication is observed between the various organizations in order to exchange, share and participate in the ideas and composition of their respective religions.

The College of Pharmacy is one of the more recent additions to the basic colleges of the University. It has already been established as one of the finest of such undergraduate colleges in the nation. Students of pharmacy are prepared to become professional practitioners in the various fields of the pharmaceutical sciences. With the growth of the student body in the College of Pharmacy, Lambda Kappa Sigma Sorority was founded along with Alpha Zeta Omega and Rho Pi Phi, national and international pharmaceutical fraternities respectively. The professional sisterhood and brotherhoods were established for the social fraternization of pharmacy students and the creation of spirit among the University student body for spirited participation in campus and community activities.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

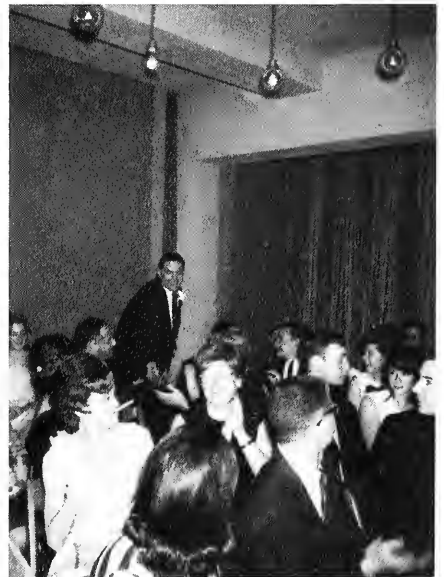

This year has been a banner one for AEPi. Through the combined efforts of Prof. Cooperstein, AEPi's Advisor of the Year for 1963-1964, the Executive Board and the Committees, we have made great strides forward from our problem year of 1963-1964.

The top social and athletic events of the year included the 15th annual Richard M. Horowitz Dance at the Charter House, the Parents and Sons Dinner at Lynn's Hotel Edison, the Spring Formal at the Astor Motor Inn, Belmont, Alumni Homecoming, splash night at the YMCA, discussions of sex and over-population and the Toga party.

Also, the Hawaiian Luau, the Gospel Heavens, Barry and the Remains, the Animals, John Thomas, George Sullivan, the Nose Bowl against TEP, the victory party for Erin-Go-Bra—the Mayor of Huntington Avenue, the Playboy party, Friday, and the many rush parties which brought us 30 new brothers.

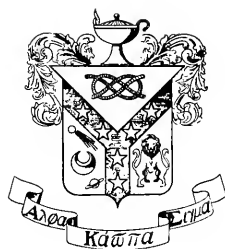

The house has taken a new outlook on life this year, with a completely new exterior look of shining white. Inside, every room was renovated and redecorated. Couple these repairs with Herb's great cooking, and 134 Babcock St. becomes a wonderful home away from home.

Throughout 1964-1965, AEPi lived in the ever present atmosphere of high ideals and goals based on the character traits of our beloved Richard M. Horowitz—fraternal spirit, brotherhood, cooperation, initiative, personality and scholastic ability.

This past year was really a GREEN letter year at AKS...remember the driving of the Golden Spike at Homecoming...and the Quint-Frat Ball and New Year's Eve will live in our memories for a long time to come ...even more paddles were added to our now famous paddle-covered wall ...who will ever forget the happy faces of the neighborhood children at our annual Christmas party...and who would have guessed that some of our long time members finally became alumni...remember the green T-shirts and those "boss" weekends with a "band on every floor" ...although we have left the house of Alpha Kappa Sigma, we shall never be forgotten in the hearts of our brothers.

BGE, Northeastern's oldest fraternity has just completed its 46th year on campus. Its rich traditions are passed down through events such as the Quint-Frat Formal and the annual gathering of the brotherhood at the Alumni Dinner Dance.

The brothers look back over this year with pride and memories of the activities in which they have participated...highlighted by the off-key Greek Sing...the Spirit of St. Louis that flew before half time...the party climaxed by Precinct 16...the Labor Day week at Falmouth...the New Year and Christmas parties...the ski trips...the summer outings...the competition for All Sports Trophy...and the hangovers.

BGE will always remember the seniors who have made this past year a most memorable one. With the past as its heritage and the future as its destiny, Beta Gamma Epsilon will make its 47th year the best ever.

With your end, and the ends of the thoughts and ghosts of these who were to end with you, we now begin. Because of you, we begin again. Remembering the last years, one thinks of pleasures and joys; one thinks of crises, and crises met; one thinks of 16, Ashford, 72 and 11; one thinks of Presidents, and progress.

Remembering these years will not be hard. They will always live in the future that you diligently helped to give us. But these are the big things: What of your personalities, so vivid and so strong, the ball games, the many, many parties and of course the songs? What of the issues won and the issues lost and the sincerity expressed?

These words may seem hollow to those who "do not know." To us they are private, and we understand very well what they mean. Just as memories are forever, so is brotherhood. Shake my hand Brother, and we will call you Brother.

NU EPSILON ZETA

Social development in coordination with academic achievement provides equilibrium of education and maturity to the fraternity man. The brotherhood of Nu Epsilon Zeta takes great pride and maintains an individual interest in upholding the fraternal concept.

During 1964, NEZ took an active part in all interfraternity sports, claimed the trophy for originality in the Homecoming Float Parade, had successful social parties, and participated in other interfraternity rivalries such as the Toilet Bowl with Theta Rho Epsilon and the Hangover Bowl with Gamma Phi Kappa. Balancing off our social calendar were our traditional activities such as Parents Weekend, Alumni Weekend, the Quint-Frat Formal and our Christmas party for the underprivileged children of Brookline.

This year sees NEZ already making plans and looking forward to another successful year, and if the happiness created in the past can be continued into the future, we all feel that our endeavor will not be in vain.

PHI GAMMA PI

Phi Gamma Pi celebrated its 40th year as a fraternity at Northeastern and continues in the ideals, spirit and traditions established by PGP in 1924.

PGP is proud of the accomplishments of our 13 graduating brothers, both for the fraternity and for N.U. We wish them farewell, regretfully, but with the full knowledge of the great heights they will achieve in their lifetimes. To compensate for their loss, PGP has initiated 16 new brothers.

During 1964, we continued to be an asset to the football team, with 10 of our brothers actively participating.

Homecoming weekend again proved to be one of the high points of PGP's social life. Our Annual Open House was held after the football game with music supplied by a jug band. The PGP alumni were welcomed back with a cocktail party, a buffet supper and a dance given in their honor at our house.

The "open keg" parties were begun this year and proved successful if uncontrollable. The annual Wassail Party was held again this Christmas with neighboring nurses. PGP was again active in IFC sport competition and gave strong support to the Quint-Frat Ball.

PGP's guiding principle is for brothers to work together to improve themselves physically and mentally and from this gain a greater understanding and appreciation of their fellow man.

BROTHERHOOD

Brotherhood is working for all, together,
 Brotherhood is a lesson to be used, forever.
 Brothers for each other, suffer aggravation,
 Brothers for each other, possess admiration.

Nothing is worse than fighting, pushing, alone,
 A man without a country, a cupboard without a bone

In brotherhood you're not alone, there's always Someone beside you,
 To help you...to push you...and oftentimes,
 To guide you.

Sometimes it's forgotten, but it's often said
 With a sigh,
 You never miss the water till the well runs dry.
 Long life to fraternity and to the men who use it,
 Help it...push it...please God, don't abuse it.

Social life is a very fine part,
 But let no one make this mistake,
 Those parties are not the essence,
 They're only the frosting on the cake.

I've lived here now for quite a time,
 I can sum it up grammatically,
 True fraternity's a thing very hard to find,
 It's OURSELVES not myself, emphatically.

Delta Pentaton chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa is one of Northeastern's three national fraternities. Our mother fraternity was Sigma Phi Alpha, a local founded on March 31, 1924 and formally recognized and chartered by the University on April 7, 1924. Thirty-five years later on May 11, 1963, SPA became the 100th chapter of Phi Sig. Phi Sig was founded in 1863 at the University of Massachusetts. Thus, we of Delta Pentaton have a rich heritage both from our mother fraternity and the national. The Phi Sig house is located at 37 Greenough St., Jamaica Plain, and is the center of our social activities.

We at Phi Sigma Kappa are proud of our social, interfraternity and school activities. We have five major social functions during the year.

These begin during football season with Homecoming, and are followed closely with our Christmas and New Year's parties. In March we hold our annual Sigma Phi Alpha Alumni Dinner Dance and in the Spring, we have Parent's Day and Alumni Day. We have participated actively in IFC activities and have held the IFC All-Sports Trophy.

Phi Sig has two other chapters in the Boston area at Tufts and MIT, and last year, we of Delta Pent walked away with the newly instituted Paul Gray Trophy. This is awarded for winning competitions in basketball, volleyball and bridge, held among the chapters of the Boston Triad. The games are held as part of our national birthday celebration.

TAU EPSILON PHI

This year marks the graduation of the last KZP brother and the initiation of 23 pledges to bring the membership to an all-time high of 72 active brothers. The current school year has held numerous achievements which the brotherhood is very proud of.

At the Freshman Night program, TEP was presented with the IFC All Sports Trophy for the 1963-1964 season. We also received trophies for tennis, golf and an undefeated season in softball.

During Mayoralty week, Brother Jack Haynes, incognito as U. Hefler, a renowned playboy, graced our urban campus. With a chorus line of over 100 "bunnies" and an ROTC brigade review, we attempted to increase school spirit.

Beginning in early August, the brotherhood completely renovated the house at 402 Marlborough Street. Paneling, indirect lighting and new furniture were installed. We have nearly doubled the size of our dining room and party rooms.

Among our numerous social events, an Inter-Collegiate Mixer was held at the Sherry Biltmore Hotel, with a portion of the profits going to the Kennedy Library Fund.

As Brothers Asnes, Bearon, Bloom, Cowan, Natanson, Phares, Rosenthal and Sapoznick receive their diplomas in June, the fraternity will look back at their achievements and realize that without the seniors, the "bridge builders" of the fraternity, Tau Epsilon Phi could never have attained its present position at Northeastern.

THETA RHO EPSILON

We have grown a great deal in strength and Brotherhood this past year...the once young cub is now a powerful lion...our presence is being felt everywhere...Gerry Rabbitt as Mr. Husky...Mike Mondelli and Paul McManus winning Condit Awards...Ray Baronowski and Al Vaccaro, our tennis champs...our first memories as a recognized fraternity...Charter Night...our first birthday...and our first formal initiation.

Although we've gained much, we lose those whom we can never replace — our charter brothers. We are dedicated to follow their ideals...we have spread those ideals in the past and we'll spread them in the future. Their past has shaped our future.

Wherever our travels may carry us, let us never forget..."Our hearts forever bound to thee, forever faithful, TRE."

ZETA GAMMA TAU

1964-1965 was a busy year for Zeta Gamma Tau. During the year the brothers of ZGT participated in many school activities. These activities ranged from interfraternity tug-of-wars across the crystal clear waters of the Fens to participation in the IFC Sports League.

ZGT's social season was filled with picnics, a Christmas train ride, an Alumni banquet on Homecoming Day, "that ----" bus ride to the U.R.I. football game, and a New Year's Eve Party where 80 brothers, alumni and their dates welcomed in the New Year. However, the highlight of the year was ZGT's unprecedented third consecutive victory in the Major of Huntington Avenue Campaign. At the victory dance that night "Erin-Go-Bra," Brother Dave Palmer was crowned with the Mayor's Hat by Brother Gene Murray, outgoing mayor.

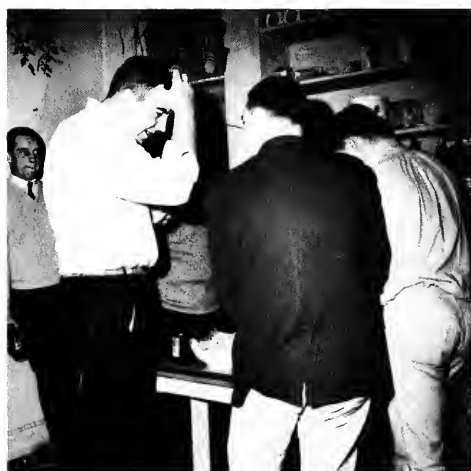

However, ZGT's activities were not centered entirely around parties, football games, etc. The fraternity brothers have been active blood donors for the Brookline Blood Bank, have done charity work in old age homes, entertained many children from various orphanages around Boston, and spent many "work" days at the Boston City Hospital.

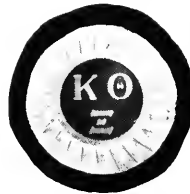

Zeta Gamma Tau has been on the NU Campus for four years, but through the character of its members and by its high academic standards, ZGT has established itself as an active and integral part of the Northeastern way of life.

The Intersorority Council serves as the governing and regulating body of Northeastern's four social sororities. The council is composed of members of each sorority.

Founded on May Day, 1962, the council has since been active in providing opportunities in the form of socials and mixers for the sisters of each sorority to meet each other and discuss mutual interests.

On Freshman Night each year, the council promotes the sorority system by means of an information booth and pamphlets.

DELTA PI ALPHA

Delta Pi Alpha was founded in June of 1961 by a group of 25 women students. The goals of Delta Pi Alpha, as embodied in our Constitution, are charity, scholarship and social achievement.

In order that these goals may be fulfilled, Delta Pi Alpha plans a wide range of activity each year. For charity work, the sisters of Delta Pi Alpha aid the Red Cross as volunteers at Chelsea Naval Hospital.

To promote scholarship, Delta Pi Alpha awards annually a scholarship of $100 through the office of the Dean of Women to a deserving upperclass woman student.

Delta Pi Alpha participates in the Greek Sing and supports other school functions. Our social events include softball games, beach parties, spaghetti suppers, formal dances and the traditional Spring Dinner Dance.

CHI PI EPSILON

Chi Pi Epsilon, to promote close friendship within the sorority and to maintain an active status for women on campus, has had a very busy but rewarding year's agenda.

Highlights include social events such as the annual Christmas party, the Valentine Semi-Formal, The Mother-Daughter Tea and the Halloween Costume party sponsored by the Alumnae Chapter for the active sisters.

The two pledge periods have brought nine new sisters into the sorority. During pledging these girls have worked along with the sisters to build the Homecoming float and to help the handicapped children by working as volunteer aides at the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Center in Brighton. They have enjoyed getting together socially with the sisters at the prepledge and pledge parties and at informal sing-alongs and suppers.

This year Chi Pi will award the first of its annual scholarships to a sister for meritorious service. To raise funds for this, the sisters have held a car wash, a cake sale and a baked bean supper. We are grateful to the graduating seniors of 1964 who began this fund with a donation of $125.00.

The class of 1965 will graduate six sisters of Chi Pi Epsilon. These six can look back on their senior year as one of rewarding activities in which the sisterhood as a whole worked for together.

KAPPA THETA XI

Through the past year we have maintained,
The standards and goals for which we aimed.

Aid to those who show a need,
We are not lacking in good deeds.

A lot of work a lot of fun,
We feel satisfied when day is done.

We have found a way to help those who,
Have not as many opportunities as we do.

Through the YMCA we were able to,
Take some youngsters to the zoo.
To see the elephants, tigers and lions,
And take a trip to the Museum of Science.

The bonds of friendship which we have formed,
Are strengthened as the years go on.

To share work and play is what we prefer,
So upon 10 girls we did confer, the sisterhood
we dearly prize.

And this thought makes us realize,
That someday when we have to part,
We will keep within our hearts
Our friendship and our memories,
Our loyalty and pride...

To know we are and will always be,
Sisters of Kappa Theta Xi.

THETA SIGMA TAU

This year has been a memorable one for Theta Sigma Tau. To start the year off on the right foot, we entered the Homecoming Float Parade. Our numerous hours of working and planning were indeed rewarded when it was announced that our float "Hawaii Joins the Union" had won second prize. The congratulations really belong to our wonderful and talented chairman.

The pledge period, too, started off very well with what we sincerely hope will become a tradition for us, the Greek Tour. On this tour, we visited some of the fraternities at their houses. Their graciousness and hospitality will remain to us both enjoyable and memorable. We hope that such activities will help establish a stronger bond between the various Greek organizations.

Highlights of the year also include...a certain afternoon in a certain Saugus park...splashing in the "Y"...pledge basketball games...working in GPK's cellar...Halloween parties...a certain afternoon at a Watertown home...and a banquet.

The future looks bright for Theta Sigma Tau and we, her members, look ahead eagerly... together.

Quarterback Jack Kennedy

BY JOE DAVIS
'63-'64 Captain

The 1963 Husky football team was the joining of a fine line with the most outstanding backfield ever assembled at Northeastern. The line, one of size and experience, was made up of Bill McKeown and Jack Silverio at end, Joe Bruno and Joe Davis at tackle, Howie Harding and Jim Lyons at guard and Dick McPherson at center. The backfield consisted of Jack Kennedy at quarterback, Jim Thornton and Paul Luciano at halfback and Bob Cappadona at fullback.

These were the "starters" on the program each

Saturday. However, the defensive starting team of Dean Webb, Joe Heuston, and Brian Hayes was another experienced senior unit which did us proud. The alternate line had seniors Ray Canada, Ted Tripp and Joe Golec. The rest of the alternate team consisted of sophs and juniors the likes of Paul O'Brien, Bill

Quarterback Paul O'Brien

O'Brien, Mike Mastro, Tom Pileski, Ed Murphy, Roger Larsen, John Clarke, and Ralph Goslin. Max St. Victor was always ready to answer Coach Zabilski's call "Maxie, go in and kick one." Maxie's 49-yard field goal against Tufts in 1962 is still a collegiate record.

With depth like this one would expect the greatest season in N.U. History. The Huskies outscored their opponents

237 to 42, winning every game and climaxing the season by accepting the first bowl bid ever given a Northeastern team. Post season awards were given to Joe Davis, captain, who was selected for the Little All-American and Williamson All-American squads and to Coach Joe Zabilski who was chosen as the Eastern Coach of the Year, and finally to Bob Cappadono, who received the Swede Nelson Award for his dedicated work in helping the team prepare for the bowl game in which he couldn't participate because of an NCAA rule pertaining to transfer students.

In a pre-season scrimmage with Bowdoin, it became evident that the team possessed depth which would only be wasted unless a system could be devised that utilized all the available talent.

Thus the platoon system was developed. The "machine" as it came to be called had two lines which played both ways splitting the time, and two backfields, one for offensive and the other for defense. It was this depth which decided three of four games which were won in the final period.

THE FIRST TEST

Saturday, September 21st, 1963, marked the key to the Husky success story. For the first two periods the Rams of U.R.I. lead 7-0, with the Huskies unable to gain any enertia. Then the continual beating the Rams had been taking from the two fresh teams began to show. Cappadona capped a 60-yard drive after the Rams had scored on an 80-yard play on the first play of the second half to make it 13-7. After Cappy's three-yard plunge, the Husky defense held the Rams and took the ball and a few plays later Jim Thornton carried it over. Before the Rams could scamper off the field the Huskies tallied twice more to make the final score 28-13. The "machine" had been a success.

BRIDGEPORT

The nemesis of three straight seasons almost came true again. With four minutes remaining, Bridgeport held a 9-6 lead.

Had the machine failed? No. The second team fresh from the bench after a seven-minute rest came and scored a pair of touchdowns with Tripp, Canada and Golec throwing key blocks on both scores. Zabitski's fresh team had paid off again.

BATES

After two suspense filled games, the Huskies decided to win this one early. Howie Harding, left guard, blocked a kick and grabbed in for a touchdown. Bates tied it up, but that was all they were to get. Thornton tallied twice, then Cappadona, Clark and Goslin scored to make the final score a 41-6 Husky rout.

AIC

After chopping up Bates, the Machine ran AIC through the mill. The first half was highlighted by Bill McKeown's 60-yard touchdown jaunt after intercepting an AIC aerial. The second half gave forth with the usual outburst of scoring by the Huskies for a final score of 35-8.

SPRINGFIELD

After easy victories over AIC and Bates, NU had to prepare for its toughest game. The Gymnasts always have a good team and this year they were exceptional. The first half had Springfield within the ten yard line on three separate occasions, only to be denied a score by the Husky defense. Instrumental in stopping them was Howie Harding who grabbed two fumbles. The play in the second half was just as rugged. Defensive captain Dick McPherson made the right calls all afternoon to continually stymie the Gymnasts' attack. But the Husky offense wasn't moving either. Then the heat started to be felt by both teams, but the machine had the advantage of numbers and with five minutes to go the Huskies finally pushed across a score and added another at the two-minute mark of the period to make the final score 14-0. This was our toughest game of the year and produced the final tuning up of the machine, for in the remaining games the Huskies allowed only six points for the opposition while rolling up a total of 99.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

For the first time in five years, the Huskies managed to knock off Coach Chief Boston's New Hampshire eleven. Plagued by injuries, the Wildcats offered not a great deal of resistance. George Greenridge made the play of the game going 99 yards with an intercepted pass.

KINGS POINT

Scoring in every conceivable way, the Huskies totalled 39 points to defeat the Mariners at Kings Point while the home forces managed just six points. Bill McKeown started the scoring parade when he tallied on a 73-yard pass interception. Cappy then went 35 yards straight up the middle for the second score. With two minutes left in the half, Joe Davis intercepted a pass to set up John Kennedy's touchdown pass to Bill O'Brien. In the second half, St. Victor booted a 43-yard field goal and Paul O'Brien carried the ball across twice on quarterback keepers.

TUFTS

A fired-up Tufts team held the Huskies for exactly one period, but they were aided by a torrential rainfall. Then the defense started the scoring for the fourth time, with Ed McGlaston going 38 yards with a pass interception. This broke the Jumbo's backs and the Huskies continued to romp. Despite the rain, Paul O'Brien tossed three touchdown passes. One of these was on a special pattern for the game and Joe grabbed it alone in the end zone.

For most teams this would have been the end of the season but for the first time in history, a bowl bid was made and accepted by a Northeastern team. The opposition was East Carolina College, a single wing team made up of hard-hitting, aggressive ballplayers. The game was played under difficult conditions and the Pirates turned up a 26-6 margin. However, the score was not indicative of the effort made by the Huskies. East Carolina took advantage of the breaks and scored on a couple of fluke plays. But the Huskies played hard at the end, always fighting, never yielding, and when the gun went off the team left the field as they had all season, with heads held high, proud to be members of the finest team in Northeastern's history.

The 1963-64 Northeastern basketball season marked indeed the "End of An Era". It was the final season for four guys named John Malvey, Tom Martin and the Ryan twins, Fran and Fred; a quartet which had played together for three years and in two of those years took Northeastern all the way to Evansville, Indiana for the Small College hoop championships.

For two previous seasons the charges of Coach Dick Dukeshire had journeyed to Indiana in search of College Division hoop supremacy and both times were eliminated in the first round of play. It was the hopes of all concerned that this season would bring a third trip west and that the third time would be magic for the boys from Boston.

They fought hard all season and managed to crash the Northeast regionals after a year of splendor from Malvey, Martin, and the Ryan twins and many fine efforts on the part of the team's fifth senior, Hank Dugan, and junior guard Gerry Phillips. Two other juniors, Jim Bowman and

EYES OF THE COACH...

One of the high points of the regular season was a 73-71 triumph over arch-rival Boston College in the opening game of the Beanpot Tourney before a packed Cabot center crowd.

The Northeast Regionals were held at Assumption College and the Huskies drew the home club in the opening round. The Assumption quintet was ranked at the top of the College Division teams in the nation with an 18-1 mark and thus were decided favorites over the visitors.

But the Dukemen played their finest game of the season and upset the Greyhounds 79-78 in a comeback triumph in the opening round of the NCAA playoffs. This put the Huskies in with Adelphi College for the Northeast Regional crown but Adelphi won a 68-66 triumph and the right to go to Evansville. (See page 190.)

Malvey broke the all-time N.U. scoring record by pouring through 1171 points in his three-year career and was the team pace-setter scoring wise for the third consecutive season.

Second to Malvey's 16.5 average was Fran Ryan, who hit for an average of 16.3 points per game and led the squad in rebounding with 14 a contest. Twin-brother Fred grabbed off eight rebounds a game for the Huskies, and Somerville's Tom Martin was third in scoring with a 12.4 average.

AND THE BLACKBOARD DID NOT LIE ...

BY ART HATTON

Reprinted from the Northeastern NEWS

The blackboard in the locker room read, "No. 1 in guts, poise and desire," and in what was undoubtedly their greatest clutch half of basketball this season the men in the black and white from Boston more than proved that the blackboard did not lie. . . .

The scene was the bright and shiny new gymnasium studded with the banners of the four colleges that partook in this "survival of the fittest" competition. The plot was elementary. Assumption College, the top-ranked College Division team, was playing Northeastern, ranked number three in New England at the close of the regular season.

All the smart money was on the Greyhounds and the consensus of opinion was that Andy Laska's team would win by at least ten, with a negative amount of perspiration enroute. But this plot had a surprise climax for Assumption did not win. They lost by ten points ... and the blackboard did not lie. . . .

For this was the night that Coach Dukeshire's charges jelled thicker than they had jelled all season and did it in a manner which spelled of clutch with a capitul 'C'.

This was the team that walked somberly from the floor at halftime down by nine points and adjourned to the cloister of their lockerroom, a place fit at the time for no one but coach and players, who had a big job to do in a small amount of halftime.

But this coach and these players somehow found time to complete the job for the team was not the same in the second half. Within the space of ten minutes, the underdog became the top dog as a capacity-plus crowd watched with the mixed emotions of shock and elation.

When the final gun sounded, the more than 500 Husky fans on hand were on the floor hoisting their heroes to their shoulders in the fashion befitting true champions. The players began the chant and the fans quickly picked it up. "We're number one, we're number one" rang loud and clear above the pandemonium of the gym ... and the blackboard did not lie. . . .

But a day can make a difference for on Saturday night the scene was the same and the plot differed only in that Adelphi College provided the Husky opposition. The outcome was anybody's guess and there would be no tomorrow for the losers. The loyal Panther rooters touted their team as tops while Assumption's rabid if often rude fandom cast their lots with the New York quintet as if an Adelphi victory would somehow heal the wounds opened when their heroes fell to the brash boys from Boston.

On the other side of the court, a fine representation of Northeastern fans gathered under a sign hailing the Huskies as No. 1. Some had been there on Friday night and were firm believers while the rest had chosen to wait, and by their own decision missed their team's greatest triumph of the season. But now they too believed and wanted to be cut in the final glory. Any one of them would have sworn to it ... that the blackboard did not lie. . . .

Adelphi's brute strength and hungry hustle plus early foul trouble and a bad night boardwise for the Huskies put the N.U. quintet in an almost impossible position. With a matter of 41 seconds to go, the spirited Huskies controlled a jump ball and had a shot which would have put them into a one-point lead and sent them to Evansville for the third successive year. But two final shots failed and the handwriting was on the wall.

Seconds later it was all over ... two - indeed two points shot of three years - of college hoop supremacy in the Northeast. A pretty coddled, her heart with the Huskies, drew her head from her lap when it was over and cried. And she was not alone.

A guy named Dugan sat on the floor with a towel held to his eyes and his teammates and their coach stood silently by trying to keep their emotions within. The type of emotion which comes when a team tastes defeat - real defeat - for the first time in three years. They did not ask the Duke to say anything during the post-game ceremonies and it was just as well. For all he had to say - all he could say - was meant only for the ears of those guys who pushed it to the brink before they went down.

But if you sit back a minute - if you think of the way this coach and these players have brought distinction and a common rallying point to Northeastern for the past three seasons - and you dismiss the last 20 seconds of the Adelphi game as something that had to come ... then there's no denying the fact ... that the blackboard did not lie after all. . . .

H O K E Y

The balloon of Husky hockey fortune soared to new heights during the 1963-64 campaign and then fell abruptly to a new all-time low as the ECAC tournament committee deflated Northeastern's hopes for a post-season tourney berth, passing the Bellmen by when selection time rolled around.

Led by stellar Captain Leo Dupere, seven seniors added that necessary touch of experience to a sophomore-studded contingent. George Rossi, Glenn Boden, Dean McGranahan, Steve Powers, Walt Fitzgerald, Kevin Power and Brian McLean blended perfectly with sophomore flashes like Larry Bone, Bill Seabury and Bob DeBlois to form a smooth-running, hard-skating sextet for Coach Jim Bell.

Dupere, passed up for All-American honors after a phenomenal junior year, sat out eight games during the season with a shoulder injury and injuries notwithstanding, Leo notched 14 goals and 20 assists to tie with sophomore Larry Bone for the team scoring leadership. Bone had 19 goals and 15 assists to give each 34 points.

Bob DeBlois, another sophomore, finished third in team scoring with 11 goals and 21 assists for 32 points while center Bill Seabury notched 13 goals and had 18 assists for 31 points. Junior wingman Neil McPhee had 11 goals and 15 assists to finish with 26 points while senior Glenn Boden got 7 goals and 14 assists for 21 points.

Offensively, the Seniors played a great part in the Bellmen's first winning season in ECAC competition. Dupere and George Rossi, along with McPhee, composed one

The Bellmen got off to a somewhat shaky start, losing two of their first three outings to cross-town rivals Harvard and Boston College but bounced back in festive fashion to roll up a string of five successive triumphs - squeaking past Princeton 4-3 and Brown 6-5, trouncing Middlebury 7-1 and taking two from Boston University 6-2 and 3-2.

The mid-year exam break took the edge off the team as they dropped six of their next eight outings, winning over New Hampshire and Middlebury before falling before the Eagles twice, eventual ECAC champ Providence, Harvard, Brown and Army.

The Huskies last two wins, an 8-3 verdict over Dartmouth and a 5-4 upset of top-ranked R.P.I. rounded out the best season ever enjoyed by a Northeastern hockey team. The squad closed out the season with an overall record of 14-10 against Eastern major hockey competition and left a legacy for future Husky sextets to follow - a tradition of winning hockey accompanied by desire, sportsmanship and the will to win.

And the season brought to a close the three-year career of hard-luck Leo Dupere who was kept from realizing All-American status only by a bad shuffle from lady luck in his last season. Leo ended up the second highest scorer in Northeastern's history behind Art Chisolm, the only Northeastern hockey player ever to receive All-American rank. In his junior season, Leo set an all-time school single season scoring record with a total of 67 points on 33 goals and 34 assists to beat the old mark of 65 set by Chisolm in the 1958-59 season.

"Leo came into his own at the close of his sophomore year," said Coach Jim Bell in summing up Dupere's career, "and it was his strong determination and desire that spelled success for us the past two years."

Northeastern's 1964 baseball squad combined some timely hitting with an ultra-effective pitching corps to compile the finest record in the school's history, and have a post-season bid to the NCAA Baseball tourney barely evade them after dropping a tight playoff series to the University of Maine.

At mid-point in the season, Coach John "Tinker" Connelly's charges boasted a mediocre 6-4 record but the team went on from there to finish with a flourish-winning eight straight regular season contests and forcing a best-of-three play-off series with Maine for the right to represent this district in the NCAA finals.

many a battle over the course of the season.

Their winning ways earned for Coach Connelly the distinction of being named "Coach of the Year" in New England and the team members have much to be proud of when they reflect back on the season.

Senior moundsmen Dick McPherson and the Ryan twins, Fran and Fred, proved that pitching can indeed be 75 percent of winning baseball, while Captain Jim Keating, Bud Heavey, All-Boston shortstop Neil McPhee, and newcomers Norm Hoffman, Dave Coleman and Paul Lombardi provided the offensive punch needed to keep the Huskies on the winning track.

The winning ways of the Husky Harriers continued into post-season competition as they defeated the six other local colleges to become Greater Boston champions.

The Harriers opened the season with a 24-35 win over the University of New Hampshire, and a week later, topped their arch rivals, the universities of Maine and Massachusetts — 27-34-41 — in a tri-meet. The varsity track team completed its most successful season in Northeastern's history by sweeping through the indoor and outdoor campaigns without a loss and capping it by capturing the New England championship for the first time since 1935.

The Huskies had little trouble in rolling to nine straight indoor triumphs. The well-balanced squad opened with a 66-47 win over M.I.T., and followed it by beating Tufts 84-28. Boston University was the next victim, falling 84-28. The Huskies then clobbered Bates 80-33 and ran up a 101-12 decision over the University of New Hampshire. Boston College was defeated 80-33, and Brandeis fell before an 88-19 onslaught. Northeastern scored a 79-34 win over the University of Massachusetts and closed out the season by defeating the University of Maine 69½-43½.

Northeastern's weight duo of Carl Wallin and Bill Corsetti completed the season without a loss and established University and Cabot Cage records in the process. Wallin tossed the shot 58'3½" against the University of Maine for a record, and Corsetti upped the record in the 35 lb. weight to 62'2½" in winning against U. of Mass.

Seniors played a big part in the Husky's success with Ed Flowers, Captain Phil Tupper, Kevin Uniacke, Steve Pettersen and Carmen Iannucelli carrying much of the load.

Outdoors, Northeastern continued to overwhelm all competition running up victories over the University of Rhode Island, University of Connecticut, Bates, Tufts, Springfield, U. of Mass., M.I.T., and Boston University.

School records were set by Bill Corsetti in the hammer when he hurled the 16 lb. ball 196'7½" against Bates; Carl Wallin in the discus with a 154'2" throw against Springfield, and sophomore Dave Post who hurled the javelin 200'½" in the New England's. Ed Flowers lowered the University mark in the 440 to 48.4 seconds and sophomore Dave Dunsy lowered Dick Ollen's mile record with a 4:13.6 effort against U. of Mass.

Highlight of the year came in the New England's when Northeastern edged Holy Cross for its first championship since 1935 and only the second in N.U. history. Ed Flowers, Carl Wallin and Bill Corsetti were New England champs. Flowers captured the 220-yard dash and was fifth in the 440. Wallin won the shot and placed fourth in the discus and Corsetti was hammer champ. Other New England scorers included: Ed McGlaston, who was second in the 100 and fourth in the 220; Dave Post, fourth in the javelin; Steve Pettersen fourth in the high hurdles; Dave Dunsy, third in the mile, and Mike Glynn,

N.U. ALUMNI LOUNGE

Congratulations to the Class of 1965 from the Northeastern University Alumni Association

The offices and members of the Northeastern University Alumni Association extend heartiest congratulations to the members of the Class of 1965. You are cordially invited to visit association headquarters in Richards Hall (Room 225) and the newly furnished Alumni Lounge which is available to you and your family whenever you are in the vicinity. We also urge your co-operation in maintaining an official address with the Alumni Records Office so that you may receive all of your mail promptly. This includes the official quarterly publication of the Alumni Association, The Northeastern University Alumnus, which you received free of charge during your senior year. You will continue to receive it on the same basis.

Most important, however, is the fact that your class officers will be looking to the Alumni Records Office for current information for the various communications which will be sent to you as members of the Class of 1965. Among them will be an invitation to attend the annual Homecoming Day celebration and, more particularly, your first class reunion. Although your first formal reunion will not be held until 1970, we hope that you will attend Homecoming and the meetings of at least one of the more than 50 regional alumni clubs located throughout the nation.

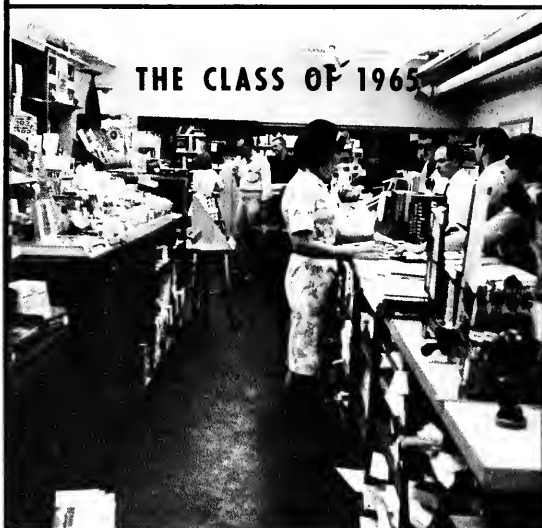

Many of you will be entering the armed forces following graduation, and we invite you upon completion of your service commitment to take advantage of the Alumni Placement Service, under the direction of Professor Thomas J. McEneaney '52.

If the Alumni Relations Office can be of service to you in the years ahead, please feel free to call on us. The Director of Alumni Relations is Rudolf O. Oberg '26, who is the liaison officer between the alumni and the University. He works closely with the various class officers, the regional clubs throughout the country, and such special interest groups as the Varsity Club and the Alumnae Association. On behalf of your fellow alumni, we again extend to you our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for success in the years ahead.
